The application

1. The Commission received an application by The Valemount Entertainment Society to renew the broadcasting licence for the English-language television programming undertaking CHVC-TV Valemount and its transmitter CHVC-TV-1 Valemount, from 1 September 2007 to 31 August 2014, under the Policy framework for community-based media, Broadcasting Public Notice CRTC 2002-61, 10 October 2002 (Public Notice 2002-61).
2. The Commission did not receive any interventions in connection with this application.

Commission's analysis and determinations

3. In Public Notice 2002-61, the Commission created a new class of licence for community-based programming undertakings and established a regulatory framework for their licensing.
4. In accordance with the objectives set out in Public Notice 2002-61, the applicant has agreed to devote not less than 80% of the broadcast year to the broadcasting of Canadian programs and not less than 60% of the broadcast year to the broadcasting of local programming.
5. In light of the above, the Commission renews the broadcasting licence for CHVC-TV Valemount and its transmitter CHVC-TV-1 Valemount, from 1 September 2007 to 31 August 2014, as an English-language community-based television programming undertaking. The licence will be subject to the conditions specified therein, as well as to the conditions set out in the appendix to this decision.

Employment equity and on-air presence

6. In accordance with Implementation of an employment equity policy, Public Notice CRTC 1992-59, 1 September 1992, the Commission encourages the licensee to consider employment equity issues in its hiring practices and in all other aspects of its management of human resources.
7. With respect to on-air presence, the Commission expects the licensee to ensure that its programming is reflective of Canadian society and that members of the four designated groups (women, Aboriginal persons, persons with disabilities and members of visible minorities) are presented fairly and accurately.
